- Save the dates! More information to follow.

St. Augustine Spiritual Tourism

As part of a new spiritual tourism circuit, St. Augustine of Canterbury church is looking for interested candidates to volunteer as tour guides for this unique heritage site. English and/or French speaking volunteers are welcome. Complete training will be provided. For more information, please contact Susan Leclair at susan.leclair@yahoo.ca or call 514-910-5245 or leave a message at the church.

St. Augustine's Plant Sale

Our June plant sale was a huge success! The total of the raffle, the early tomato and herbs sale in May and the June sale was just over $2,000 for the Heritage Fund! Congratulations to Mary Linard who won the raffle of the beautiful container of flowers! A sincere thank you to all who donated plants and all who came out to support our sales.

Thank you also to Vivien and Francois, Reine, and Susan for all their help setting up and on the day of the June sale. Also thank you to the clean up crew and to all those who posted and shared the sale posters on social media.

Religious Heritage Days

St. Augustine's will be hosting an open house as part of the Religious Heritage Days event held every year in Quebec. It will be held on Saturday September 9th, 2023 from 2-4 pm. Refreshments will be served in the St. Augustine courtyard. This will be our 4th year participating in this event and is a wonderful opportunity to visit this Heritage site.

FAITH EDUCATION NEWS

CONGRATULATIONS

On Sunday, June 4th, 36 children from our parish communities celebrated the sacraments of Confirmation and First Holy Communion.

Please pray that our young people, strengthened by the Holy Spirit and joined to Christ through communion. We offer you our heartfelt congratulations and prayerful best wishes!

FEAST OF ST. BENEDICT: JULY 11

Born in Nursia around 480 AD, St. Benedict was educated in Rome. The decadence of Roman society of that time led Saint Benedict to withdraw to a quiet, mountainous area south of Rome called Subiaco where he lived in a cave as a hermit. A community of hermits grew up around him and coalesced into twelve monasteries of twelve monks each, with abbots appointed by St. Benedict. Local jealousy led to an attempt on Saint Benedict's life. And so, around 525, St. Benedict moved with a small band of monks to Monte Cassino, between Rome and Naples, where Benedict remained till his death around 550. He was buried at Monte Cassino in the same grave as his sister, St. Scholastica. A generation or two after his death, a Benedictine monk ascended the throne of St. Peter and took the name Pope Gregory I, otherwise known as St. Gregory the Great. It was at Monte Cassino that St. Benedict wrote his Rule or way of life, which brought order, stability, and moderation to the practice of monastic life. Because his Rule was so eminently reasonable and practical, it became the standard for nearly all monastic life in the Western Church until the time of Sts. Francis and Dominic. Monks following the rule of Benedict founded monasteries all over Europe from England to Germany and from Italy to Spain. The Crusaders even brought Benedictine life to the Holy Land. It was largely Benedictine monasteries that served as the exclusive centres of evangelization and Christian education throughout Europe for at least five centuries. And today it is not just Benedictine monasteries that follow St. Benedict's rule, but Cistercian and Trappist monasteries as well. Because of the role his Rule played in Christianizing the entire West, he was named co-Patron of Europe by Pope Paul VI in 1964. The irony in this, of course, was that Saint Benedict apparently had no idea of this future impact. He was a simple man, leading other men to a simple life of prayer and work (Ora et Labora) which was their chosen path to holiness. It is perhaps the worldwide, evangelizing impact of St. Benedict's humble holiness that inspired Cardinal Joseph Ratzingers to choose to be known as Pope Benedict XVI.

In Memoriam

Blessed are those who have died in the Lord; let them rest from their labours for their good deeds go with them. Eternal Rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen

If you know of the passing of parishioners or former parishioners please let us know at staugustine.bulletin@yahoo.com and Heidi Glaser for Sunday prayers.
